2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Two pivotal internal examinations, namely Sessional and PUT, coupled with regular unit tests, punctuate the academic calendar.

Should dissatisfaction persist, students have a direct avenue to the Head of Department (HOD) for necessary intervention. Additionally, in the event of suboptimal marks in university examinations, students possess the recourse to seek re-evaluation, reinforcing a commitment to justice in the evaluation process.

Detained lists are prepared in advance and communicated to parents, triggering targeted interventions such as extra classes for weaker students.

A crucial layer of assurance is woven through the random verification of corrected answer scripts by the HOD, affirming the fidelity of the evaluation process.

For laboratory courses, marks and grades for each experiment are meticulously recorded, with viva voce sessions serving as a practical test of independent learning and real-time application comprehension.

Project Review Committee collaborates with project guides to ensure a holistic and quality-centric assessment. The maintenance of a project diary adds an element of ongoing monitoring, emphasizing the iterative nature of project work.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The Course Outcomes (COs) are formed for each subject in all the programs. All the faculty members teaching a particular subject formulate the course outcomes and final approving authority is the DAC in consultation with HOD.

Two methods are adopted for attainment, Direct Methods (Class test, Assignment/Tutorials, Seminar, Project, Lab and external examination conducted by the University) & Indirect Methods (Curriculum Feedback survey, Graduate Exit Survey, Employers survey, Alumni Survey). Course-wise CO attainment is calculated by taking 70% contribution of external exams & 30% contribution of Internal Exams. The targets for assessment of University Examinations were set based on the last three years marks average:

1. If greater than 50% students achieve target than attainment level is 1.
2. If 55% to 60% students achieve target, attainment level is 2.
3. If more than 60% students achieve target, attainment level is 3.

The same process is applied to Internal Assessment, but the attainment levels for internals are different than university examinations such as:

1. If greater than 20% students achieve target than attainment level is 1.
2. If 50% to 70% students achieve target, attainment level is 2.
3. If more than 70% students achieve target, attainment level is 3.

6.3.5 - Institutions Performance Appraisal System for teaching and non- teaching staff

The Institution's Performance Appraisal System meticulously evaluates the contributions and growth of both teaching and non-teaching staff for each academic year. Faculty members are tasked with self-reporting their achievements in various key areas. This

This holistic approach to appraisal ensures a comprehensive review of each individual's contributions to the institution's goals, fostering a culture of excellence and continuous improvement. By highlighting areas of strength and pinpointing opportunities for professional development, the system supports the strategic alignment of individual efforts with the institution's overarching objectives. It not only recognizes the achievements and hard work of staff members but also plays a crucial role in their career advancement and motivation. This performance appraisal system is a key tool in maintaining the high educational and operational standards of the institution, encouraging a dedicated and dynamic academic community.

IIMT College of Engineering, Greater Noida, ensures financial integrity through meticulous annual internal and external audits. The internal audit, executed by the college's financial committee, scrutinizes incomes and expenditures, with findings reported to the institution's management via the Account Officer. Additionally, an independent agency performs an annual external audit to uphold financial standards.

The financial oversight process begins with the Director and Director of Planning & Procurement proposing a detailed budget, considering department heads' recommendations. This budget encompasses both recurring expenses, such as salaries and utilities, and non-recurring costs for infrastructure enhancements and equipment purchases. The accounts department vigilantly monitors spending against this budget.

Internally, financial transactions are audited semi-annually, with all vouchers reviewed for accuracy and compliance. Discrepancies, if any, are immediately brought to the Finance Officer's attention. Externally, the college's accounts undergo scrutiny by a chartered accountant, ensuring all transactions are properly authorized. This robust audit process, compliant with government regulations, reinforces the college's commitment to financial transparency and accountability. Any audit queries are promptly addressed, maintaining the college's high standards of fiscal management.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Two pivotal internal examinations, namely Sessional and PUT, coupled with regular unit tests, punctuate the academic calendar.

Should dissatisfaction persist, students have a direct avenue to the Head of Department (HOD) for necessary intervention. Additionally, in the event of suboptimal marks in university examinations, students possess the recourse to seek re-evaluation, reinforcing a commitment to justice in the evaluation process.

Detained lists are prepared in advance and communicated to parents, triggering targeted interventions such as extra classes for weaker students.

A crucial layer of assurance is woven through the random verification of corrected answer scripts by the HOD, affirming the fidelity of the evaluation process.

For laboratory courses, marks and grades for each experiment are meticulously recorded, with viva voce sessions serving as a practical test of independent learning and real-time application comprehension.

Project Review Committee collaborates with project guides to ensure a holistic and quality-centric assessment. The maintenance of a project diary adds an element of ongoing monitoring, emphasizing the iterative nature of project work.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time-bound and efficient

The institute has an exclusive Examination Cell headed by the Controller of Examination for overseeing the smooth conduct of the internal and external examinations. Effective implementation of evaluation reform of the university is strictly followed.

Two internal examinations, namely Sessional and PUE, coupled with regular unit tests, punctuate the academic calendar.

Should dissatisfaction persist, students have a direct avenue to the Head of Department (HOD) for necessary intervention. Additionally, in the event of suboptimal marks in university examinations, students possess the recourse to seek re-evaluation, reinforcing a commitment to justice in the evaluation process.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

Program Outcomes and Program Specific Outcomes are displayed at different locations of each department in the institute premises, including classrooms, labs, corridors, etc. They are also available on the institute website for the awareness of faculties and students. Program Outcomes, Program Specific Outcomes, and Course outcomes are also included in the course file of the concerned course.

The Course outcomes of all the courses are designed as per the syllabus prescribed by the university. Care has been taken to include Bloom's Taxonomy while framing the Cos. The instruction activities and curricular activities such as projects, industrial visits, etc. are planned to take into consideration the Program Outcomes (POs), Program Specific Outcomes (PSOs), and Course Outcomes (COs) for all programs offered by the institution.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The Course Outcomes (COs) are formed for each subject in all the programs. All the faculty members teaching a particular subject formulate the course outcomes and final approving authority is the DAC in consultation with HOD.

Two methods are adopted for attainment, Direct Methods (Class test, Assignment/Tutorials, Seminar, Project, Lab and external examination conducted by the University) & Indirect Methods (Curriculum Feedback survey, Graduate Exit Survey, Employers survey, Alumni Survey). Course-wise CO attainment is calculated by taking 70% contribution of external exams & 30% contribution of Internal Exams. The targets for assessment of University Examinations were set based on the last three years marks average:

1. If greater than 50% students achieve target than attainment level is 1.
2. If 55% to 60% students achieve target, attainment level is 2.

3. If more than 60% students achieve target, attainment level is 3.

The same process is applied to Internal Assessment, but the attainment levels for internals are different than university examinations such as:

1. If greater than 20% students achieve target than attainment level is 1.

2. If 50% to 70% students achieve target, attainment level is 2.

3. If more than 70% students achieve target, attainment level is 3.
